This Is My Father's World

*This is my Father's world,
And to my listening ears,
All nature sings, and round me rings,
The music of the spheres.
This is my Father's world;
I rest me in the thought
Of rocks and trees, of skies and seas;
His hand the wonders wrought.*

*This is my Father's world,
The birds their carols raise;
The morning light, the lily white,
Declare their Maker's praise.
This is my Father's world;
He shines in all that's fair;
In the rustling grass I hear Him pass,
He speaks to me everywhere.*

*This is my Father's world,
O let me ne'er forget
That though the wrong seems oft so strong,
God is the Ruler yet.
This is my Father's world;
Why should my heart be sad?
The Lord is King: let the heavens ring!
God reigns; let the earth be glad.*

Hallway Displays

Take a few minutes to check out the displays in the hallway of the administration building this weekend. The beautiful wood and glass cases were crafted by Chauncy Betts and given to the academy as a reunion gift several years ago by the Class of 1941. JoAnn McKey, the Academy's librarian, updated the displays to show memorabilia from each of this year's reunion classes. If you have memorabilia like old school newspapers, snapshots, graduation announcements, programs or even school clothing that you no longer wish to keep, remember that Auburn Academy's alumni archives would love your contributions! Don't throw them away!

Thank You, Class Agents!

Auburn’s Alumni Association has over 6,000 members! That’s a lot of graduates, former students and staff to keep track of. Thanks to the tireless efforts of Auburn’s current class agents, we’re doing a better job than ever before. The Academy helps class agents correspond with their class at least once each year. Class agents also help to raise funds for the Academy’s most important needs by inviting their classmates to financially support Christian education. Not every class has a class agent, yet! If you would like to join the ranks of this distinguished group, contact the Alumni Office.

Distinguished Alumnus 2003

Edna Day Indergard

On October 20, 1917, in the small town of Mabton, Wash., a baby destined for God's service was born. Edna was welcomed into the Day family and a year later they moved to Seattle. Attending Auburn Academy during the days of Professor Hubbs, Edna graduated in 1936 and promptly enrolled at Walla Walla College to major in secretarial science and accounting. She graduated in 1939.

Upper Columbia Conference was the next stop--becoming a wonderful new beginning! During her two-year stint as secretary at the conference office she met and fell in love with James Indergard. They were married in 1941. "They didn't want married secretaries working there," explains Edna as her reason for leaving the conference office, and she and Jim moved to Portland where he worked for a cookie factory.

Missing the Seattle area, they returned a short time later with Jim finding employment at Coats and Clarke, the famous thread manufacturing company, where he was employed for the rest of his life, eventually becoming vice president of the company.

Jim's job became a whirlwind of moves for the couple, allowing them to live and experience friendships in 12-14 different states. With Edna's education and training, she was able to get a job working for the government with the Bonneville Power Administration. From then on, every time they moved she would be able to get a job with the government. When asked what her most exciting job has been, Edna modestly admitted that she had been working for NASA as an accountant while they were preparing their first space travel. Edna has also worked as an auditor for the government and for the Seventh-day Adventist Church.

Jim and Edna had no children of their own but believed strongly in Seventh-day Adventist Christian education and have assisted more young people through academy and college than she can count. Edna has continued to give financial assistance to young people even after Jim's death in 1986.

Edna, who is retired and living in Sequim, is an active member of SAGE, a team of volunteers making a difference in the Washington Conference, and is helping with their building projects at Sunset Lake and in Costa Rica. In fact, two new cabins at Sunset Lake will have Edna and Jim Indergard's names on them!

Generosity and dedication to Adventist education has led Edna to establish an endowment at Blue Mountain Academy in Pennsylvania and to her own alma mater, Auburn Adventist Academy. Her willing support and her love of young people are gifts for eternity.
